MAYOR TAYLOR'S CASTING VOTE SAVES BINGHAM FROM DISMISSAL; BOARD REAPPOINTS McLAUGHLIN

Commissioner McLean Moves Resolution Dispensing With Services of Chief on Month's Notice

MOVE HOTLY OPPOSED BY WEEKS, MAHON AND L. D.

Ex-Detective-Sergeant George McLaughlin was reinstated as detective on the city police force and Chief W. J. Bingham was saved from instant dismissal with one month's salary by the casting vote of Mayor L. D. Taylor in a meeting of the Police Commission today.

The vote for McLaughlin's engagement and Bingham's retention found Commissioners C. E. Mahon and A. C. J. Weeks supporting His Worship and Commissioners Norman McLean and Harry Burgess on the losing side.

The ostensible reason given by McLean for moving for Bingham's displacement was that he had recommended that McLaughlin be taken back on the force as detective.

RESOLUTION OF DISMISSAL

But the resolution he submitted, seconded by Burgess, had been carefully typed out before the meeting and set out:

"Whereas we are of the opinion that the Chief Constable (W. J. Bingham) is not a fit and proper person to hold the position that he now occupies in this city, for reasons which we will not enumerate at this time;

"Be it resolved that he be asked to resign and that one month's salary be paid to him in lieu of notice."

"That," said His Worship on the resolution movers, "is what you've been working on all the time. You came here all prepared, eh?"

Without further remark the vote was taken.

"ANOTHER MAN CLOSE TO CHIEF"

Intimating that he thought McLean was working for the advancement of some other member of the force, the Mayor told him that "If I followed my own views (but I'm not going to) I would move that the services of another man close to the chief be also dispensed with."

McLean pressed the chairman for elucidation of this ambiguous remark, asking that the Mayor name the man he had in mind.

"I don't like these innuendoes," he declared.

His Worship declined to be drawn.

The dramatic suddenness of the McLean attack on the Chief was followed by an equally dramatic pause when the vote was put, as Commissioner Mahon hesitated.

Evidently nonplussed by Mahon's momentary indecision, His Worship paused for a response from Mahon to the call for those against the Chief's dismissal.

After an appreciable interval, Mahon settled the matter: "I'm opposed to the motion," he said.

So today, Chief Bingham, who was appointed to his office by the administration under Mayor W. H. Malkin after he had defeated Mayor Taylor in the 1928 campaign on a "cleaner

No Trousers for Gandhi

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright for The Vancouver Sun)

The latest news about the Indian leader, Gandhi, might have added a chapter to Carlyle's "Sartor Resartus."

Going to London to talk to the British powers, he will wear trousers, which he never wears in India.

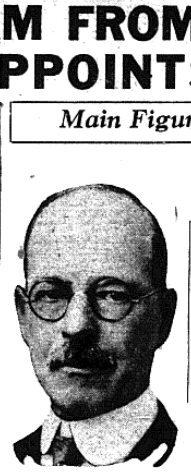

He may even shave off his "pigtail," a long tuft of hair worn in obedience to the Hindu religion, which teaches that it may be used by friends to pull the dead man out of hell.

However, Gandhi says he positively will not wear a stiff shirt and the King won't see him wearing silk knee breeches. He says "I am ugly enough without such foppery."

We all have our ideas about how to dress. When Sir Augustus Harris, boss of London's Drury Lane Theatre, asked George Bernard Shaw, then a young man, to come to the opera in evening clothes, Shaw took off his suit of brown flannel,

Life Imprisonment For Boy Guilty of Crime Against Baby

OTTAWA, April 11.—A sentence of life imprisonment was today pronounced on Thomas Edward Delaney, one day short of his 17th year, and self confessed to committing a serious offence against a ten-month-old baby girl.

The case was described by Mr. Justice Kelly as being "most inhuman and revolting beyond the belief of man."

"While you will be 17 years of age tomorrow," the court said, addressing the prisoner, "you have the mentality of one of 13 years. You are, however, as responsible as the average."

Referring to reports of alienists who had examined the boy, Mr. Justice Kelly said Delaney had no definite mental disorder, being generally defective mentally.

One medical examiner declared during the trial that the young prisoner was apparently slated for a criminal career, having been previously found guilty of thefts, delinquencies and truancy.

There was no show of emotion on the part of the prisoner, either when the life sentence was pronounced, or while the court addressed him.

"While you are at large no woman or girl, no matter what age, is safe," Mr. Justice Kelly told him.

The offence for which Delaney was sentenced occurred last January. The victim of the assault was critically injured but has since recovered.

Old Ideas Supplanted by New; 'Way to Man's Heart'

LUCKY COUPON WINS A STOVE

By DORIS S. MILLIGAN

With every seat in the Vancouver Theatre occupied, boxes crowded to capacity and even the orchestra pit utilized by the audience, The Vancouver Sun's Sixth Annual Free Cooking School was brought to a successful conclusion Friday night.

Crowds commenced gathering outside the theatre for the final session of the school shortly after 5 o'clock. By 6:30 there was a traffic jam that necessitated early opening of the doors. And before 7:15 o'clock, the hour of opening, there was difficulty in finding a place. Hundreds of disappointed people were turned from the doors after the theatre was filled to capacity.

The three days school saw a total attendance of more than 11,000. In addition, more than 4,000 were turned away owing to the fact that Vancouver's downtown section does not boast an auditorium large enough to handle the crowds that sought admission.

WINNER OF RANGE

Friday proved a lucky day for N. Peterson, 2150 Turner Street, who left the school the wealthier by one Westinghouse Electric Automatic Range valued at $187.50, and by one basket of groceries.

His coupon, No. 7699, was drawn from out the 600 lucky coupons of the three-day school. And the same coupon, first drawn at the afternoon session, won for him a basket of groceries.

There was a breathless hush as Miss Agnes M. Reed, cooking expert with the B. C. Electric Co. and chief demonstrator at the school, made the draw. Loud applause greeted the lucky winner as he made his way to the platform.

The stove will be a surprise for Mrs. Peterson, the winner stated, as she is at present out of the city.

"But I hope she'll fixed up by the time she gets back," he told a Sun reporter later.

U.B.C. Forced to Auction Famous Purebred Cattle

Reduction in government grants and high feed bills are blamed by the faculty for forced sale of some of the U.B.C. purebred stock.

Today saw the transfer to the stockyards of the first lot slated for the hammer: a group of splendid Ayrshire bulls ranging in age from 2 to 13 months, all from cows imported from Scotland and presented to the university by Capt. J. C. Dun-Waters of Pintry.

It is expected these representatives of the best Ayrshire blood in the Old Country will go to privately-owned Ayrshire herds throughout British Columbia.

Herefords, also from university herds; Duroc-Jersey swine and pure-bred sheep are being offered for sale by the Livestock Exchange.

Vernon Man Objects When American Bank Tells Him He's Been Dead for Weeks

VERNON, April 11.—Irate when a personal cheque on his own account was returned to him in the States with "maker deceased" pencilled on the reverse side, William Hoffingsworth investigated and found he had been "dead" for several weeks. He then returned here from Seattle.

The robust "ghost" who left here early last December for Mxico, returning via Los Jeans and Los Angeles, sojourned in Seattle for several days, found himself short of cash, made out a cheque against an account in a local bank only to have it "bounced back" at him.

Before returning, he visited Portland, Ore., Cashmere and Omak-Wash., to reassure relatives, and, since his return, has been assuring friends in the Okanagan Valley that it is not an "astral body" they see.

When asked about his two-word obituary, he replied, "I doubted it very much; my main trouble was to get at that bank account."

Seattle Inventor Charged

Vancouver Money Behind Co-motional Machine

SEATTLE, April 11.—Peter Ivanoff, promoter of what he terms a "co-motional motion power engine," was arrested here today by Seattle authorities, on a warrant charging him with seeking to evade the blue sky law by subterfuge. He was released on $750 bail.

Ivanoff recently built a $150,000 factory at 420 West Canal Street, and announced plans for incorporation of a $100,000,000 company.

Filing of the complaint, laid by the Better Business Bureau, disclosed a scheme that investigators say would do justice to the imagination of Jules Verne.

At his factory, Ivanoff declared he had worked out an entirely new system of mathematics, and by their use he could demonstrate that 400 divided by 20 comes to 128. If all started, it seems with the trisection of the angle, the age-old problem which modern scientists declare to be insoluble.

Ivanoff declares that most of the money he has collected to date on his invention, which he claims is not not "perpetual motion," came from abroad. It is stated that a considerable number of subscribers live in Vancouver and Victoria, and authorities pushing the charges against him say that complaints have been received from the two British Columbia cities.

Better Business Bureau officials claim Ivanoff's advertisements in various newspapers amounted to an offer in securities for sale without a license.

MEETINGS HERE

With agents in Vancouver and elsewhere throughout British Columbia Mr. Ivanoff had held several meetings

SCOTTISH CUP FINALISTS IN TWO-ALL DRAW

Motherwell, Two Up at Half Time, Fail to Hold Advantage

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 11.—The Scottish Football Association Cup final today at Hampden Park resulted in a draw. The score was: Motherwell 2, Celtic 2.

The half-time score was 2-0 for Motherwell, but the Celtics put on a great rally in the last half to tie the count.

Motherwell, who won the toss, played with the wind in the first half. After the turn-round Celtic were able to equalize with the wind in their favor.

For the first five minutes the players were too excited by the occasion and the cheers of the multitude look-

CANADA SOON TO O.K. PLAN FOR WATERWAY?

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Hon. R. J. Manion, Canadian minister of railways and canals, told Secretary of State Stimson today that he believed Canada would shortly formally advise the United States of its willingness to proceed with the St. Lawrence waterway project.

Mr. Manion conferred informally with the secretary.

He was accompanied by Handford MacNider, United States minister to Ottawa, and Hume Wrong, Canadian charge d'affaires, here.

The minister of railways and canals told the secretary that he was not in a position to speak formally on behalf of Premier R. B. Bennett regarding the St. Lawrence, but pointed out that Mr. Bennett in his first campaign speech for the recent elections had advocated the waterway.

Mr. Manion said he knew of nothing which would change the favorable attitude of the premier.

The United States Government is now awaiting a reply to a note to Canada dated September, asking if that country was prepared to push forward the seaway. President Hoover long has been an advocate of the project.

'CHILD MINE' ASSERTS LOCAL MAN; 'ASSAULT' UNDER POLICE PROBE

Vancouverite's Wife Backs Husband; Beating Denied

While Clyde Cogeshall, Seattle and San Francisco engineer, still struggled feebly for life in a Seattle hospital, the mystery of how he suffered a terrific beating in Vancouver became deeper today.

Last night city detectives questioned W. L. Robertson, engineer formerly employed on the Ruskin development, and the man named by Cogeshall in an affidavit as being the foster father of Cogeshall's five-year-old daughter, also the man who had given him the "beating up." The interview took place at Robertson's home, 3858 West Twenty-ninth Avenue.

"I have nothing to say," Robertson, a tall, powerfully-built Scotsman told Detectives Alex. Murray and W. G. Gosse. Murray also interviewed A. M. Manson, K.C., formerly attorney-general, who is counsel for Robertson.

DENIES PARENTAGE CLAIM

The focal point of the strange international case is the dainty-featured little girl who, Cogeshall claims, is Pearl (Mickey) Cogeshall, born to his wife in Seattle on July 6, 1926.

The Robertson's, on the other hand, insist the child, now living at the Twenty-ninth Avenue home, is their own. They ridicule the statements of Cogeshall that he was "beaten up" at their house and consider his story with regard to the child as sheer fiction.

After interviewing Robertson last night, detectives made inquiries at the homes of neighbors to determine whether the sounds of a fight had been heard last Monday morning.

TWO MORE MURDER ARRESTS LOOMING

Two new arrests loom as a likelihood as a result of police investigation into the activities of the alleged Cordova Street murder factory," it was stated at police headquarters today.

Sam Pei Tsunoda, Japanese who was treated by Shinkichi Sakurada at the latter's "private hospital," gave the police the lead which may result in the arrests. The information was contained in an ante mortem statement made by Tsunoda at the Vancouver General Hospital, Thursday.

Sakurada, T. Hitomi and Bunshiro Fugino are charged with the murder of Nasikichi Watanabe on March 30 last.

Hospital Sweeps Proposed

Mayor Regrets Sending of Money Out of City on Lotteries

The question of permitting sweepstakes on Old Country races to be conducted in Vancouver was introduced at the police commission meeting this morning in a letter from A. D. McLean, 820 Rogers building.

Mr McLean said he realized it was illegal and did not ask for a permit, but wanted the support of the commission. If allowed to conduct such sweekstakes without interference, Mr. McLean stated the profits would be turned over to city hospitals and other public institutions.

Commissioner McLean stated it was a question for the criminal code and unless this was amended the board could do nothing. He suggested that the application be forwarded to Ottawa.

"What the commissioners' personal opinions are does not matter," he said.

Mayor Taylor thought it a crime that so much money should be sent out of the country, and suggested the communication be sent to the City Council for action.

GAR WOOD SEEKS NEW RECORD TODAY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 11.—With his racing craft tuned to perfection, Gar Wood today is ready for his attempt to wrest the world's speed boat crown from Kaye Don of England.

He will drive his twin-motored Miss America IX over the measured mile course here today in the hope of entering the mark of 103.49 miles an hour set up by Don at Buenos Aires last week.

A brisk east breeze brought announcement, however, that he would await calmer waters. Mechanics were instructed to be ready to put the racing craft into the water at a moment's notice.
