FACE LIFTING NOT FOR RICH

Working Women Taking to It in Making Living

OAKLAND, Cal., April 24.—The illusion is heir to from gall stones and sagging faces to loss of equilibrium while flying, was brought under the scrutiny of numerous gatherings of scientists here as the sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons went into annual convention.

Face lifting was discussed by Dr. Vilray P. Blair, plastic surgeon of St. Louis, who said that contrary to popular belief it was not the "idle rich and social butterflies" who go in most for this work. It is the working women are taking to it and that it had come to be, at bottom, a question of making a living.

"Women now have their faces repaired for the same reason they wore silk stockings—to boost their morale," said Dr. Blair.

NEW BRIDGE READY ON JULY 1, 1932?

If progress continues at the present rate and no unforeseen difficulties crop up, July 1, 1932, may see the opening of the new Burrard Inlet Bridge, according to F. J. Dawson of Dawson Wade & Co., who are associated with Hodgson, King & Marble on the bridge contract.

The contract let by the City Council called for completion within 18 months from the date of the award, which would be about the end of July, 1932. Good progress has been made with hthe work.

During the first three days of this week a total of 1300 yards of concrete was poured, including the first section of the deck from the south abutment to bent No. 4 on the trestles. The bottom of pier No. 11 has also been sealed, about 850 yards of concrete being poured on this section. Pumping the water out of the caisson will be commenced next week.

It is expected that the last of the dredging for the main piers supporting the centre span will be completed today.

About 200 men are employed.

Power of Press Returns Convict To Prison Cell

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., April 24. —How the power of the press landed Louis Slonski, convict who escaped from the provincial jail here December 19 back in jail, was revealed today by the prisoner just before he was taken to the penitentiary to commence serving the three-year-term to which he had previously been sentenced and on an additional three months for breaking jail.

Just before his escape two letters threatening the local crown prosecutor with death if he did not release Slonski, were received.

Suspicion fell on Pauline Clar, 18, but when she was supposed to appear in court she was giving birth to a son in hospital here.

She confessed Slonski was the father of the child and admitted writing the letters.

The wires carried the story to eastern newspapers and in one of these Slonski read of the birth of a son and the trial which faced his sweetheart as he was working in an Ontario lumber camp.

He immediately quit his job and started back here but was arrested in Moose Jaw.

MARKET OFFERS 18-CENT EGGS

Flowers Predominate in Liberal Display

Featured by the large numbers of frying chicken on sale at the various stalls, today's city market was a typically spring one with quantities of flowers, seeds, bulbs and early vegetables in prominence.

The fryers were selling from three to a dollar up for the plucked ones to 25 cents each and up for the skinned ones. Boiling fowl was as low as 15 cents a pound at some stalls, while eggs continued to sell from 18 cents a dozen up.

Local asparagus selling at 25 cents a pound made its appearance on today's market. Green onions were 9 cents a bunch.

On several of the stalls rhubarb was on sale, while duck eggs, in larger numbers than usual, were selling two dozen for 25 cents.

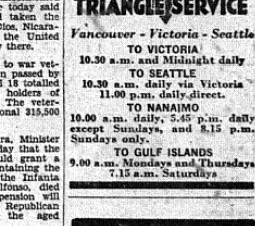

The chief attraction on today's market, however, were the flowers, of which there was a large variety including wallflowers, daffodils, sweet peas, pansies, narcissi, forget-me-nots and potted geraniums.
