Mr Green

Dear Sir:

With reference to the singer sewing machine and baby furniture, it is true that these two articles are no longer stored at 921 East Cordova Street as he has them here with him. The kitchen utensils he claims he never registered at 921 East Cordova, but are stored at Mill Bay Cannery, Naas River, B. C., together with engine tools and a new bed spring. The Engine tools are listed as follows:

3 pipe wrench - big & small	1 engineer hammer
3 Crescent wrench	1 gas lamp
2 screw driver	1 storage batteries
2 pinchers	3 paint brushes - big
1 Coleman Gas Stove

These articles were all left in one room, unpacked, at Naas River, and I am informed that there is only one house there which was occupied by Japanese. He also informs me that a Mr. Clarke, who was the watchman, knows the whereabouts of these tools, bed spring and kitchen utensils.

With regard to the kitchen utensils, he claims he has quite a large amount there, but he only wants the attached list shipped to him here packed in two boxes.

Mr. Machida is anxious to get these kitchen utensils at the earliest possible moment, so would you do your best to make this arrangement.
