This vessel was damaged while in custody and was condemned. The damaged vessel was sold to W.H.S. Wilson for $10.00. This sum, less the supervision charges of the JFVDC amounting to $5.50, was remitted to the Receiver General.

The owner's claim for compensation in the amount of $300.00 was approved, from this sum was deducted the amount of the supervision charges (5.50) and the net claim of $294.50 was paid to the Custodian on December 12, 1942, on behalf of Mataji FUKUDA.

Re: Mataji FUKUDA, Reg. 07720,

On November 27th, 1942, this man sent to the Japanese Fishing Vessels Disposal Committee the completed Release and Discharge papers in connection with a claim for the loss of his fishing vessel.

At that time he requested that the cheque (amounting to $294.50) be sent to him as soon as possible. The Committee closed its office at that time and the cheque was sent to the Custodian.

On September 21, 1943, the sum of $100.00 was sent to Fukuda from the $294.50, leaving $194.50 still to his credit.

OK FUKUDA has not been informed of the amount to his credit here, and is probably wondering what happened to his $294.50.

X If it is in order to do so, would you kindly send him a cheque for the balance, telling him at the same time where the money came from?
