CHATTEL SUMMARY

File 8622

Reg 12671

HIROYASU, IWAMOTO

DECLARED MAY 7, 1942.

EVACUATED MARCH 11, 1942

Hiroyasu IWAMOTO, declared that certain chattles belonging to him were left in a house at 582 Scott Road, Surrey. The Custodian's representative reported on the effects identified as Iwamoto's, on May 23/42, and the chattel schedule on file lists both the goods declared and inventoried.

The property at 582 Scott Road was owned by Kaichi Hikedra (File 4938) and on which there were two houses, one being occupied by Iwamoto. When Hikedra's effects were removed to the Custodian's auction sales it is possible that some of Iwamoto's effects may have been removed at the same time, it is hardly likely however, as the list of effects found by the Custodian under the pump house roof on this property, together with a few effects found in Iwamoto's old house seem to check fairly well with his declaration.

An oak table was sold at auction and sundry effects were sold on appraisal to the tenant Mr. Larsen. The net proceeds $18.50 were credited to Hiroyasu IWAMOTO.

This summary is certified to be in accordance with information on file.

RE: Hiroyasu IWAMOTO
582 Scott Rd., D.R.#1, N. East.

Further to my memorandum of April 2nd relative to subject Japanese, I have checked over File 4938, K. Hikeda, and apparently all items sold at auction check with the inventory.

It may be as you suggest that IWAMOTO's belongings were removed with Hikeda's and the sale proceeds included in the auction returns under his name. However, there is no way of determining this definitely.

The returns show articles quite similar. It may be necessary to leave the question of IWAMOTO's chattel credit to be arranged with Hikeda as they are related to one another.

In the meantime please question Mr. McLaren in the matter as he was the tenant of 582 Scott Road.

There is some lumber under the chicken house but mostly odd sizes and too dry and split to be of any value.

Dear Sir:

Reference to your file discloses that there were a few personal chattels declared by you, left in the house you were occupying on the farm at 582 Scott Road, owned by Mr. Keiichi IKEDA. We should not imagine that these were of any great value and as all the effects removed from the farm were credited to Mr. IKEDA, we would suggest that you agree to any credit coming from the sale of your effects, remaining with Mr. IKEDA, pending arrangements between the two of you. We note that there was an electric pump and tank in the house and these, of course, would be fixtures, and not recoverable.

Dear Sir, Re: File #8622.
#6988.

The delay in reply is due to my change in address and then to an error in readdressing of your letter.

The farm at 582 Scott Road was owned by Mr. Kaichi Hikida, not the name as written in your letter. ✓

In your letter you say that the personal chattels declared by me has been credited to Mr. Hikida. I have gone over the 'list of chattels sold' on behalf of Mr. Hikida, and I find that what you claim is in error. (See File #4938, Aug. 7th, 1944.)

Before I left the farm, I put away some personal effects in the attic of the house and in the attic of the pumphouse. Please look into this matter to see if these effects are still there. If still there, please dispose same by sale.

Also in the chicken house there was one electric brooder for chicks. Could you advise where this is now? This article has not been listed with Mr. Hikida's sales.

Yours truly,
Hiroyasu Iwamoto,
