CHATTEL SUMMARY

File Nos. 11015
11031

March 27, 1947.

RE: Mr. & Mrs. Eizo SHINKODA
Reg. Nos. 02110 & 01800

Eizo SHINKODA made his declaration to the Custodian on June 26/42 and was evacuated on July 16/42. On his declaration he did not declare chattels other than his drug store business and equipment at 202 Main St. (or 210 Powell). However on Custodian Release dated June 17/43 he requests shipment of chattels as shown on Chattel Schedule on file. Other requests for goods made in letters are also shown on Schedule. The goods declared by Mrs. SHINKODA are also included in Schedule.

It will be noted that of the goods declared on Custodian Release all goods have either been shipped or sold at auction with the exception of the following:

one buffet	} These two items were apparently not found by the Custodian
1 bureau
1 oil burner (supposed to have been shipped, but which SHINKODA states he did not receive.)

In letter of Feb. 10/45, the following things requested by SHINKODA were not found by the Custodian:

electric toaster	box gramophone records
electric vacuum cleaner	articles of clothing - apparently valuable

In letter of Feb. 12/47 he states the following things have neither been shipped to him nor sold and credited to his account:

1 small square writing table	} None of these items were found by the Custodian.
1 extension dining table
1 gramophone-cabinet style
1 green water sprinkler
1 wooden flower box for window
3 small scatter rugs
1 leather suit case
1 garbage pail
1 carving set
broom, dust mop, oil mop, etc.

In this letter he also lists merchandise which he left in his store, such as pens, pencils, etc. which are unaccounted for. None of these were found by the Custodian.

Mr. Tetsuo KAMITAKAHARA also left chattels at 210 Powell St. Dr. SHIMOTAKAHARA, uncle of both KAMITAKAHARA and SHINKODA owned the real property here. Dr. SHIMOTAKAHARA, with the permission of his nephews, came to Vancouver and looked out their respective goods and made shipments to them through Bowman's accurate record of what these shipments consisted of. It will be noted that out of the long list of goods declared by Mrs. SHINKODA, only the wardrobes, water tank and floor rugs, are still unaccounted for according to SHINKODA's letter of Feb. 12/47. It would therefore appear that the other articles, although not included in our list of goods shipped to SHINKODA, must have actually been shipped.

A few articles as shown on the schedule, not specifically declared by either Mr. or Mrs. SHINKODA, were included in shipments made to them.

Another list shown on Schedule although not declared by Mr. or Mrs. SHINKODA, were sold and the proceeds credited to the account of SHINKODA. The majority of these articles would appear to be goods that may have been part of the stock of SHINKODA's store.

On checking through the file of Tetsuo KAMITAKAHARA, File 12489, it was found that a large number of articles not declared by him, had been sold and the proceeds credited to his account. As some of these articles compared with chattels declared by SHINKODA but unaccounted for on his file, we sent a list of the items to KAMITAKAHARA and asked him if any of these goods did belong to SHINKODA, and if so, which ones. He sent back the list with the notation as to whether they belonged to him or SHINKODA. We sent a copy of this division of the articles to SHINKODA and he confirmed that this was correct. The chattels marked as belonging to SHINKODA have now been transferred from the file of KAMITAKAHARA to the account of SHINKODA. The total net proceeds derived from sale of chattels identified as belonging to SHINKODA amounted to $124.38 and this sum was credited to his account with the Custodian.

As noted on first page of this summary there are a large number of items which we have not accounted for, but as Dr. SHINOTAKAHARA sorted the chattels and arranged shipments, it would not appear that the Custodian has any responsibility regarding any shortages.

The above summary is certified to be in accordance with the information on file.
