Re: 1646 West 2nd Ave.

The condition of the sheds and lofts at the rear are in such shape that I consider it quite impossible to locate, separate and inventory any chattels that may be here. Several visits that I have made to this place convince me that there is little apart from junk and old broken lumber.

Certainly, I did not see anything worth removing to Custodian storage. If there was anything of any value, then it would appear that the many Japanese who lived here, either sold their articles, or took them with them at the time of their evacuation.

The whole place is congested with rubbish, junk, old broken boxes, cartons, and an expensive clean up would be required. So much garbage would be involved that we would incur additional expense with the garbage department.

I cannot see that any useful purpose will be served by keeping these files open for settlement re chattels. If anything was discovered, we would still face the problem of identification.
