Jap Woman Dies in Fire

KAMLOOPS, Nov. 23—(CP)—Police are searching the smoldering ruins of a house at nearby Westvold today for the body of Mrs. Tora Tanabe, Japanese, believed to have perished when flames engulfed her home Wednesday. Her husband, Hageoro Tanabe, and their two daughters escaped from the blaze which also destroyed the home of Mrs. Annie King next door.

Tanabe told police the family first noticed smoke while at breakfast. Mrs. Tanabe went upstairs to investigate and then called for a pail of water.

Tanabe took the water upstairs, but he was overcome by smoke and some burns when he made his way to a room where there was a heater and where the fire seemed to have centred.

He managed to make his way to safety. He recalled that the door of one of the rooms which was normally open was only open part way and it is believed Mrs. Tanabe collapsed there.
